Jill Wagner, Thad Luckinbill, Zoe Saldana, James Jordan, Jonah Wharton and Austin Hébert in "Special Ops: Lioness"

Seeing action: 'Special Ops: Lioness' debuts on Paramount+

One of the most popular actresses in cable movies is also the co-creator of one of streaming's newest series.

A veteran of Hallmark Channel who now does work for Great American Family, Jill Wagner ("Mystery 101") teamed with writer-producer Taylor Sheridan ("Yellowstone," "Tulsa King") to create the international espionage thriller "Special Ops: Lioness," which Paramount+ debuts Sunday, July 23. Zoe Saldana ("Avatar: The Way of Water," 2022) has the central role of a military operative who has a special assignment at the front of the ongoing war against global terrorism. Nicole Kidman ("Big Little Lies") and Michael Kelly ("House of Cards") portray the supervisors of the largely female-driven Lioness program, which actually exists, and which Saldana's character works within alongside a Marine Raider (Laysia De Oliveira).

Wagner effectively created a part for herself since she also has a co-starring role in "Lioness," whose cast includes Morgan Freeman ("A Good Person," 2023), LaMonica Garrett ("Designated Survivor"), James Jordan ("Wind River," 2017) and Dave Annable ("Brothers & Sisters") as well. Wagner knew Sheridan from before his current run as a powerhouse producer, also supplying the Paramount+ series "Mayor of Kingston" and "Tulsa King" as well as the "Yellowstone" prequels "1883" and "1923," and they reunited to develop "Lioness" together. (Garrett, Jordan and Annable have worked for Sheridan before in some of his other shows.)

The new series features Wagner in a role that night not surprise those who know the former "Wipeout" co-host's work from the shows "Blade" and "Teen Wolf," though fans of her genteel work in virtually all of her cable movies might not expect the toughness of her "Lioness" character Bobby from her. That's in keeping with the theme of the show, of course, but it's an area Wagner hasn't delved into much lately.

Similarly, Kidman has played it tough on occasion, though that's also a relatively rare situation. The 2018 movie "Destroyer" is an excellent example, effective to the extent that at the time of the undercover-detective drama's release, the Oscar-winning actress' husband — country-music superstar Keith Urban — admitted (albeit jokingly) to being a little afraid of her, given the rugged nature of her portrayal in that film.

Kidman has been no stranger to home-screen work in recent years, and before her movie stardom, she began her career by doing television in Australia (where she grew up, though she was born in Honolulu). "Five Mile Creek," "Vietnam" and "Bangkok Hilton" were among her 1980s credits before her main focus shifted to feature films, and it would be almost 30 years until TV became a part of her resume again.

When she was cast opposite Elisabeth Moss in the second season of the limited series "Top of the Lake," which was set in Australia and debuted in 2017, Kidman was considered a major "get." The same year, she also starred (along with Reese Witherspoon) in the first season of the drama "Big Little Lies," for which she earned a Primetime Emmy Award among other honors.

"The Undoing," "Nine Perfect Strangers" and the anthology "Roar" followed for Kidman, and she presently has more series coming ... including "Expats" and a show based on novelist Patricia Cornwell's forensic-pathologist character Kay Scarpetta, plus the miniseries "The Perfect Couple" and "Faraway Downs."

Military-investigation series such as "Special Ops: Lioness" have had their places on television for quite some time. Certainly, the "NCIS" shows have sustained the genre over the past 20 years, while such other programs as "Homeland," "Strike Back" and "The Unit" have come (and gone) to dramatize the category. Paramount+ also has benefited from the continuation of "SEAL Team" since the move of its original episodes from CBS to the streaming service, where it has been renewed for a seventh season.

Such shows typically have an international scope by necessity, and "Special Ops: Lioness" has followed suit not only in plotting, but in production. While filming was staged toward the end of last year principally in Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, some sequences were filmed in Paris and Mallorca, Spain.

The actual Lioness program has existed for approximately 20 years, and it was developed to conduct what the Marine Corps terms "culturally sensitive searches" of Iraqi women and children by female officers, who seek contraband before it can be smuggled through security checkpoints. The aim is to maintain good relations between countries while also letting the Marines do their jobs safely — something that could be problematic for male officers, who are not allowed to touch a woman not related to them under Muslim governance.

Such is the mission of Saldana's "Special Ops: Lioness" character Joe, and the show emphasizes action-oriented elements of the job, though there clearly are emotional ones as well. Saldana and Kidman also are executive producers of the series along with Sheridan and Wagner, so they had a say in how the project strikes that balance — and they undoubtedly will have viewers among real-life Marines as well, giving them a wide audience range to satisfy overall.

“Futurama: Season 11”

Landing on a new network with its first new season in a decade, this animated sci-fi comedy from Matt Groening and David X. Cohen (both of “The Simpsons”) has reunited its voice cast for 10 new episodes. The new season sees developments in the epic love story of Fry and Leela, the mysterious contents of Nibbler’s litter box, the secret history of evil Robot Santa, and the whereabouts of Kif and Amy’s tadpoles. Billy West, John DiMaggio, Katey Sagal, Phil LaMarr, Lauren Tom, Tress MacNeille, Maurice LaMarche and David Herman voice star.

“The Hardy Boys: Season 3”

The third and final season of this family mystery drama makes its streaming debut. In the new season, sleuthing brothers Frank (Rohan Campbell) and Joe (Alexander Elliot) find themselves on the hunt for a third powerful relic — the same one their great-grandfather was after — after receiving a set of mysterious, posthumous instructions from their grandmother. But the race is on in their most dangerous and unpredictable case yet, as the brothers and their friends aren’t the only ones looking for it.

“The Croods: Family Tree: Season 7”

The Croods and the Bettermans return with more misadventures on the farm as Grug’s (Kiff VandenHeuvel) over indulgence in Phil’s (Matthew Waterson) experimental hair growth formula has hair raising consequences, and Dawn (Kelly Marie Tran) wrestles with critiquing her mother’s beloved beetball recipe. But when Eep (Ally Dixon) finds herself competing in an Alphafight (a tournament where animals fight to determine the dominant species) she must choose between making her kooky family proud or disrupting the balance of the croodimal kingdom forever!

“This Fool: Season 2”

Inspired by the life and stand-up comedy routines of series star and co-creator Chris Estrada, this series follows the life of Julio Lopez (Estrada), who has a heart of gold and goes out of his way to help everyone but himself. Picking back up after Julio’s love life blew up at the end of Season 1, Season 2 finds new roommates Julio and Luis (Frankie Quinones) embarking on finding new careers and romances with the help of Minister Payne (Michael Imperioli), chef Percy (Jamar Malachi Neighbors) and other former Huggers.

Twin sisters Leslie Davis and Lyndsay Lamb have a knack for helping desperate homeowners sell their (seemingly) lackluster homes. The pair continue to make interesting and impactful renovations, turning an unsellable home into a quick-selling showstopper during this all new episode of "Unsellable Houses," airing Sunday, July 23, on HGTV. For some top tips from the twins on brightening up your own "diamond in the rough" property, visit: hgtv.com/shows/unsellable-houses/give-your-unsellable-house-these-major-upgrades-pictures

With good looks, charisma and stunning talent, Oscar De La Hoya – a young Mexican American from East Los Angeles – took his boxing skills to Olympic gold, earning fame and fortune for his dying mother along the way. De La Hoya dives deep into his toughest battles – both in and outside the ring – in this all-new, HBO original docuseries, premiering Monday, July 24, on HBO. “Movie: Happiness for Beginners”
Ellie Kemper (“Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt”) stars in this new rom-com as risk-averse, newly divorced Helen, who finds herself more than a little lost in her life. Deciding she needs a reset, she signs up for an “Adventure of a Lifetime!” with a group of quirky strangers, hoping to learn how to live — and love — again while taking on a backcountry survival course hiking the Appalachian Trail. Based on Katherine Center’s popular novel, “Happiness for Beginners” is directed and written for the screen by Vicky Wight. Luke Grimes co-stars.

“The Witcher: Season 3, Part 2”

Henry Cavill closes out his run as witcher Geralt of Rivia in Volume 2 of this fantasy series’ third season. Based on the second installment of author Andrzej Sapkowski’s book series of the same name, Season 3 follows as monarchs, mages and beasts of the Continent compete to capture Ciri (Freya Allan), leading Geralt to take her into hiding, determined to protect his newly reunited family against those who threaten to destroy it. Entrusted with Ciri’s magical training, Yennefer (Anya Chalotra) leads them to Aretuza, where they hope to uncover more about her untapped powers.

“Movie: Miraculous: Ladybug & Cat Noir, The Movie”

In this “Miraculous: Tales of Ladybug & Cat Noir” origin story, ordinary teenager Marinette (Cristina Valenzuela) finds her life taking on some superhuman complications when she is bestowed with the powers of creation. Taking on her new superhero alter ego, Ladybug, Marinette must unite with her opposite, Cat Noir (Bryce Papenbrook) — aka Adrian, another Parisian teen who recently found his life turned upside down — to save Paris from a new villain who is unleashing chaos in the city. As they take on this new adventure, they’ll have to learn to believe in themselves as much as they’ll need to trust each other.

“Captain Fall: Season 1”

This brand-new animated comedy series tells the story of wet behind the ears but good-hearted Capt. Jonathan Fall (voiced by Jason Ritter), who finds himself at the helm of a high-end cruise ship. But little does he know that he’s found himself in charge of a smuggling ship for an international cartel. Caught in a horbed of crime, the cartel has found the perfect fall guy in their new captain — if the authorities can catch them. From creator Joel Trussell, the series voice cast includes Anthony Carrigan, Lesley-Ann Brandt, Alejandro Edda, Christopher Meloni, Trond Fausa and Adam Devine.

Alzheimer’s disease is one of the most significant global health threats we face today. Some of the root causes of Alzheimer’s that the dental team can screen and/or treat for are gum disease, unhealthy microbiome, sleep apnea, infected root canals, and mercury fillings. As a ReCode certified dentist, we work closely with Trained Primary Protocol Practitioners to assist in the prevention and reversal of cognitive decline via the Bredesen 7 Protocol.

Dr. Weeks and Dr. Field welcome the opportunity to provide you more information about the ReCode program.

New patients welcome! Please call 285-1990 to schedule an appointment.

InFocus

“Dark Winds: Season 2” (AMC+ — July 30, Season Premiere)

Based on the iconic Leaphorn & Chee book series by Tony Hillerman, this mystery drama series returns for a second season. Lt. Joe Leaphorn (Zahn McClarnon) reunites with Jim Chee (Kiowa Gordon), his former deputy turned private eye, when their separate cases bring them together in pursuit of the same suspect. They find themselves in the high desert of Navajo Country chasing a killer who’s turned his sights on them to protect a secret that rips open old wounds and challenges Leaphorn’s moral and professional code. Jessica Matten co-stars.

Pastry pros: Season 7 of 'Great British Baking Show: The Professionals' hits Netflix

Arriving just as the next season of this pro baking competition airs "across the pond," Season 7 of "The Great British Baking Show: The Professionals" will be available to stream as of Wednesday, July 26, on Netflix.

The series, a spinoff of "The Great British Baking Show" (which itself is the North American moniker for the British-born series, there simply called "Bake Off"), invites 12 pairs of accomplished pastry chefs – patissiers – from across the United Kingdom to compete for glory, whipping up delicious and delectable treats for expert judges – including chef patissier Benoît Blin and executive pastry chef Cherish Finden – as they square off to see who truly is the best of the best.

This iteration of the beloved franchise turns up the heat, ditching the infamous "Bake Off" tent for a professional-grade kitchen in the heart of a spectacular English manor home, inviting professional patissiers to face a series of increasingly difficult challenges – some well-known to avid watchers of the competition, like the miniature challenge, in which the teams must create three different types of edible miniatures, uniform in appearance, and the Showpiece Challenge, in which chefs must reinvent a popular British dessert and present it as a fine dining experience. These top-notch patissiers race through challenges, summoning all the baking expertise and precision they can muster in order to impress the highly-critical judges and avoid elimination.

Eventually, the competition will be narrowed down to three teams, all of whom face off in the final episode, which sees a duo of difficult pastry-based challenges: first making finger-licking finger tarts, then constructing a banquet of desserts themed after a "Day at the Races." In the end, those who manage it best will be awarded the "silver platter" and win the champion title.

Last season, the city of Cardiff, England, took its second consecutive "Professionals" win, as chefs Michael Coggan and Andrew Minto from Gin & Bake took the platter, following Laurian Veaudor and Thibault Courtoisier from the Cocorico Patisserie – also in Cardiff – during Season 5. As Cardiff sits out this season, a new town must take its place, and teams from London, Cheshire, Birmingham and beyond are each vying for a win.

To see whose desserts take the cake, dig into Season 7 of "The Great British Baking Show: The Professionals," streaming Wednesday, July 26, on Netflix.

Sydney Poitier in "Lilies in the Field"

BEST SIDNEY POITIER MOVIES

"Blackboard Jungle" (1955): Since he later would play one of the screen's most famous educators, it's ironic that Poitier had one of his first hits playing a student in this tense classroom tale.

"The Defiant Ones" (1958): Poitier and Tony Curtis convey appropriate fury as literally linked chain-gang fugitives in director Stanley Kramer's racially blistering drama.

"A Raisin in the Sun" (1961): Poitier rises to the occasion, as do his co-stars, in the adaptation of Lorraine Hansberry's classic play about a family's sudden windfall.

"Lilies of the Field" (1963): Poitier became the first African-American to win the best actor Oscar for his portrayal of a handyman who reluctantly helps a group of nuns build a chapel.

"Duel at Diablo" (1966): Poitier reunited with "Lilies of the Field" director Ralph Nelson on this notably mature and gritty Western, also starring James Garner.

"To Sir, With Love" (1967): Poitier had a hit-after-hit movie year that started with his memorable portrayal of a novice teacher dealing with a classroom of London toughs.

"In the Heat of the Night" (1967): The screen truly sizzled from the teaming of Poitier and Rod Steiger as lawmen with very different methodologies in this Oscar-winning crime drama. Turner Classic Movies shows the film Wednesday, July 26, as part of the concluding night of its "The South on Film" series.

"Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" (1967): Capping a year that any performer would cherish having, Poitier worked with screen legends Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn in this comedy-drama about an interracial marriage-to-be. Katharine Houghton, Hepburn's niece, played the intended bride.

“Movie: Unseen”

In this Blumhouse horror thriller, Sam (Jolene Purdy), a gas station clerk, receives a misdialed call from Emily (Midori Francis), who is running from her murderous ex-boyfriend in the woods. Having lost her glasses in her escape, Emily must rely on Sam's eyes using the video call in order to survive. From director Yoko Okumura, the film also stars Michael Patrick Lane, Missi Pyle, Brett Baker and Nicholas X. Parsons.

“Movie: Knock at the Cabin”

Based on Paul G. Tremblay's 2018 novel “The Cabin at the End of the World,” this psychological horror film from M. Night Shyamalan follows a young girl and her parents who are taken hostage by four armed strangers while vacationing at a remote cabin. Their captors demand that the family make an unthinkable choice to avert the apocalypse and, with limited access to the outside world, the family must decide what they believe before all is lost.

“Movie: Hardball”

Conor (Keanu Reeves) is a ticket scalper, gambler and, now, Little League coach for a rag-tag team of kids in one of the toughest part of Chicago. He's no role model, but his buddy Jimmy (Michael McGlone) won't help him pay off his gambling debts unless Conor coaches Jimmy's corporately sponsored team. Surprising even himself, Conor becomes attached to his players — and to their attractive schoolteacher (Diane Lane) — and drawn into their tough and sometimes tragic lives.

“Good Omens: Season 2”

This fantasy comedy series, based on the 1990 novel by Neil Gaiman and Terry Pratchett, returns with its second season. Diving into storylines that go beyond the original source material, Season 2 illuminates the uncanny friendship between Aziraphale (Michael Sheen), a fussy angel and rare book dealer, and the fast-living demon Crowley (David Tennant). Aziraphale and Crowley are getting back to easy living amongst mortals in London's Soho, until the archangel Gabriel (Jon Hamm) turns up unexpectedly with no memory of who he is or how he got there, presenting the duo with a surprising new mystery to solve.

Q: Will “American Auto” be back? – Danielle Marks, Grand Junction, Colo.

A: It won't. It took a while for NBC to make the decision, but after two seasons, the network decided not to continue the workplace sitcom that included Ana Gasteyer and

The lights are off at “American Auto”

Harriet Dyer. However, executive producer Justin Spitzer — who also made “Superstore” — will have another show on NBC next season: the hospital comedy “St. Denis Medical” with Wendi McLendon-Covey, coming directly off her decade-long run on ABC's “The Goldbergs,” and David Alan Grier.

Q: I was sorry to learn of Treat Williams' passing. What was the last project he made? – Cliff Ryan, via e-mail

A: It has yet to be seen, since the much-respected and widely beloved actor completed filming it earlier this year. He appears as longtime CBS boss William S. Paley in the next installment of FX's and executive producer Ryan Murphy's “Feud” anthology, which focuses on writer Truman Capote (played by Tom Hollander) and his complicated relationships with several of the women in his life. Naomi Watts, Diane Lane, Calista Flockhart and Chloe Sevigny also are featured in the drama, which was directed by Gus Van Sant (“Drugstore Cowboy”) and written by playwright Jon Robin Baitz (“The Substance of Fire”). The prolific Williams also had finished the forthcoming movie “American Outlaws,” in which his character is a lawman on the trail of three siblings who are on a crime spree across the country.

Those who admired his plentiful work — which also included such Hallmark Channel projects as “Chesapeake Shores” in recent years — should be comforted to know that Williams will remain frequently visible on television for a very long time, if only for the recurring roles he played on “Blue Bloods” and “Chicago Fire.” Those series are repeated so often on multiple outlets (as well as being available via streaming), his episodes will continue to come up with guaranteed regularity.

“Life Below Zero: Port Protection Alaska: Season 6”

Season 6 of this National Geographic reality series makes its streaming premiere. Port Protection is home to the few who have left behind normal society and chosen a different life in a remote Alaskan community, where survival of the individuals and community cannot sustain without the other. The stakes are high. The land is rugged and unforgiving and the seas which surround Port Protection are cold and merciless.

“Me & Mickey Shorts: Season 2”

Mickey Mouse invites preschoolers to laugh and play along as he talks about everyday topics; featuring silly games and challenges. Some of the episodes include helping kids learn how to: prepare for bed, identifying shapes, making music, and what to prepare when packing for school.

“Mickey Mouse Funhouse: Season 2”

This whimsical animated series introduces preschoolers' first pal, Mickey Mouse (voiced by Bret Iwan), and his friends — Minnie (Kaitlyn Robrock), Goofy (Bill Farmer), Donald (Tony Anselmo), Daisy (Tress MacNeille) and Pluto (Farmer) — to Funny (Harvey Guillén), an enchanted talking playhouse, who takes the Sensational Six on adventures of all types to unique worlds that inspire the imagination.

“Special: The Wonderful World of Mickey Mouse: Steamboat Silly”

Right in time to join the celebrations for Disney's 100th anniversary, the newest installment of “The Wonderful World of Mickey Mouse” sees Mickey (voiced by Chris Diamantopoulos) taking a stroll down memory lane by watching old home movies. But when he accidentally unleashes hundreds of “Steamboat Willie” Mickeys from the film reel, he and the gang must stop them from wreaking havoc on the town with their old-timey cartoon antics.

What our customers say about us...

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend! - Renay T.

From the moment you reach out to Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating you will recognize their professionalism and commitment to service are superior in the industry. The polite voice answering your call will reassure and work proficiently to accommodate answering your questions while placing your needs as their priority. From sales to installation, the representatives of Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating demonstrate their excellence in every aspect of their profession. I have called upon them on two separate occasions in two different homes (never the same unit) over the past 15 years and will continue to use them if I need HVAC repair or replacement. - DC Junior
