Penney Weeks DMD looks at a patient's whole wellness

Penney Weeks started her dental practice in January 2000 and for more than two decades has continued to learn and keep up with the latest technologies in dentistry and medicine.

"We have now transitioned into an integrative dental medicine practice," Weeks said. "This means we bring dentistry, medicine, and wellness together to treat the whole patient. We educate on the importance of oral health and its impact on your overall health and give you the tools to maximize both."

According to Weeks, the concept for the transition came from organizations like the American Academy of Oral Systemic Health, which is a group of like-minded professionals organized around a mission of connecting the health of the mouth to the rest of the body.

"Chronic disease incidence is on the rise despite the rising costs spent on healthcare," Weeks said. "This is because it is spent on 'managing' disease, not looking for and treating the root cause of the disease. Dentists should be on the front lines of fighting the health crisis facing our nation. We see inflammation in the mouth long before our medical colleagues see the effects of it systemically."

Penney Weeks started her dental practice in 2000.

The switch in concept approach still stays true to Weeks' mission that has been in place from day one, which is to help patients live longer, healthier lives.

Catching symptoms early or reversing the negative health consequences of inflammation is something Weeks believes can play a vital role in a patient's wellbeing, and education is a major step in the process as well.

"Educating patients that lifestyle medicine can change how they live out their later years is one of our top priorities," Weeks said. "We do a complete health history and screen for inflammation, sleep apnea, and oral pathogens known to cause systemic problems like Alzheimer's and heart disease. We then empower our patients to take charge of their total health."

The methods in which they strive to do that is by offering a complete health dental experience through preventive hygiene care, sleep apnea screening and treatment, biocompatible materials for dental restorations, holistic homecare products, nutritional counseling, safe protocol for removal of mercury fillings, Alzheimer's prevention protocol, clear aligners, and same day crowns.

She has 14 employees that are trained and passionate about delivering the health and wellness message to the practice's patients.

She believes prioritizing the overall wellbeing of a patient by offering a comprehensive approach to overall health is what sets her practice apart from other dentists.

"Our dental office goes beyond just treating tooth issues and focuses on improving systemic health," Weeks said. "With a focus on prevention and collaborating with other healthcare professionals we can help patients achieve optimal health."

Not only does she hope that offering an outlook for the whole body's health is beneficial for the patient, but she also wants that patient to know that they are in good hands with a comfortable environment where their dental checkup is performed.

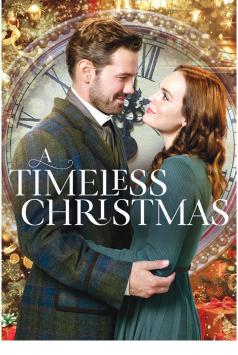

"What we are most proud of is our whole-body approach, educating patients how the mouth is the window into health," Weeks said. "Knowledge is power and important in making the necessary lifestyle changes to prevent and reverse chronic diseases."

What's Available NOW On

"Katak the Brave Beluga" (Nov. 28) Katak, a young beluga whale who's itching to see the world, embarks on a journey to find his long-lost grandfather despite the disapproval of his peers. As he gets farther from the place he once called home, Katak finds friends in the unlikeliest corners of the ocean. They help him realize that his differences are what make him unique, and that sometimes, being brave means being yourself.

"A Timeless Christmas" (Nov. 30)
On December 18th, 1903 in Cutter Springs,
New York, Charles Whitley (Ryan Paevey), a businessman and inventor, is working on an antique Christmas clock which is to help one find true love when wound on a Christmas moon.
Charles wakes to find himself in the year 2020,
where his mansion is now the Whitley Museum.
When Megan (Erin Cahill), the curator, comes to the realization that he is actually the real Charles Whitley, they must figure out how to get him back home. However, the pair quickly fall for one-another.

"Christmas Comes Twice" (Nov. 30)
Cheryl Jenkins (Tamera Mowry-Housley) is an astrophysicist who feels stuck in her life and her career. Heading home to spend the holidays with her family, Cheryl takes a trip to the annual Christmas carnival with her sister Trish (Zarrin Darnell-Martin). Thanks to a magic carousel, Cheryl discovers that — somehow — she's been transported back five years earlier, presented with the opportunity to reconnect with her beloved science teacher, Ms. Nelson (Sheryl Lee Ralph), who had been a huge inspiration to her. Along the way, she also sees her former "frenemy" George (Michael Xavier) in a new light.

"Five Star Christmas" (Nov. 30)
Lucy Ralston (Bethany Joy Lenz) and her siblings are shocked to learn that their dad has converted their family home into a B&B. Just as they're starting to come to terms with this new change, a famed travel writer unexpectedly shows up incognito. To make the struggling inn look more successful, the Ralstons pretend to be guests and must maintain the charade for the duration of the visit. But when Lucy falls for Jake (Victor Webster), another guest at the B&B, she feels terrible deceiving him. But, as it turns out, Jake has a secret of his own.

When screenwriter Lucy Hardgrove (Bethany Joy Lenz) is hired to remake the beloved 1947 holiday movie classic, "His Merry Wife!," she's sent to the historic Biltmore House for further research ... and soon finds herself stuck in the 40's. Lucy Hardgrove must make things right and return to the present in "A Biltmore Christmas," premiering Sunday, Nov. 26, on Hallmark. See a preview for the film at hallmarkchannel.com/a-biltmore-christmas/videos/preview-a-biltmore-christmas

Sometimes, the strip club is the wrong place for fun. While Brooke is in L.A. preparing for a fundraiser, the ladies in Arizona head to an all-male review for their late night shenanigans – but the evening goes south when Jen throws shade at Clayanna. The drama is hotter than ever in an all-new episode of "Basketball Wives," airing Monday, Nov. 27, on VH1. Still not enough? Stream more episodes from the series by visiting vh1.com/shows/basketball-wives

"American Symphony" (Nov. 29)

In 2022, musician Ion Batiste finds himself the most celebrated artist of the year with 11 Grammy nominations and five wins, including Album of the Year. In the midst of that triumph, Jon embarks on his most ambitious challenge to date, composing an original symphony. However, this trajectory is upended when Batiste's life partner — best-selling author Suleika Jaouad — learns that her long-dormant cancer has returned. This documentary is an intimate portrait of two artists at a crossroads and a meditation on art, love, and the creative process.

"Family Switch" (Nov. 30)

Jess (Jennifer Garner) and Bill Walker (Ed Helms) are doing their best to keep their family connected as their children grow older, more independent, and more distant. When a chance encounter with an astrological reader causes the entire family to wake up to a full body switch, on the morning of the most important day of each of their lives, the Walkers must unite to land a promotion, college interview, record deal and soccer tryout. Emma Myers and Brady Noon also star in this family comedy based on the book "Bedtime For Mommy" by Amy Krouse-Rosenthal.

"May December" (Dec. 1)

After their relationship ignited a tabloid saga two decades ago, Gracie (Julianne Moore) and Joe (Charles Melton) now lead a seemingly perfect suburban life. Their domestic bliss is disrupted when Elizabeth (Natalie Portman). a famous television actress, arrives in their tight-knit community to research her upcoming role as Gracie. As Elizabeth ingratiates herself into the everyday lives of Gracie and Joe, the uncomfortable facts of their scandal unfurl, causing long-dormant emotions to resurface.

Holiday helpers: Selena Gomez joined by celebrity chefs in new cooking special

Have a huge holiday meal upcoming and no idea what to cook? No problem — just ask Selena. The brand-new series special, "Selena+Chef: Home for the Holidays," is a seasonal cooking extravaganza, premiering Thursday, Nov. 30, on Food Network.

This upcoming holiday-centric series is set to feature four weekly, all-new episodes led by global superstar Selena Gomez ("Only Murders in the Building"), who will be joined by her best friend, Raquelle Stevens ("Giving Back Generation"), and some expert celebrity chefs as together, they learn how to prepare perfect holiday meals for visiting friends and family.

The network has shared that the season's guest chefs include Eric Adjepong ("Tournament of Champions"), Alex Guarnaschelli ("Alex Vs. America"), Michael Symon ("Symon's Dinners Cooking Out") and Claudette Zepeda ("Top Chef"), offering fans a taste of what's to come with brief descriptions of each episode.

"In 'Selena + Alex,'" they share, "chef Alex Guarnaschelli and Selena prepare roast beef and 'Chantilly' mashed potatoes for a tree-trimming party." Next: "Michael Symon pops by for a 'Surf & Turf' Christmas as he and Selena tackle steaks and lobster" and "chef Claudette Zepeda plans a Mexican feast with a traditional Latin Christmas dish of tamales and a unique twist on a historic salad."

During the final episode — "Selena+Eric" — the group make some resolutions and ring in the new year, as chef Eric Adjepong helps Selena (along with Gomez's grandparents and younger sister, Gracie) prepare a special brunch, including shrimp & banana grits and his own take on malva pudding — redefining what it means to "take the cake."

When asked about the upcoming series, Gomez shared her excitement, saying, "the holidays have always meant so much to me. It was an honor to have these amazing chefs in my kitchen to introduce some of their favorite foods and what makes the holidays special for them."

From showrunners Shauna Minoprio ("Top Chef") and Melissa Stokes ("Craftopia"), the series is produced by Gomez for July Moon Productions, alongside producers Eli Holzman ("Undercover Boss") and Aaron Saidman ("American Idol") of Sony Pictures Television's The Intellectual Property Corporation (IPC).

Make the holidays delicious with "Selena + Chef: Home for the Holidays," premiering Thursday, Nov. 30, on Food Network, and streaming simultaneously on Max.

BEST WILLIAM FRIEDKIN MOVIES

"Good Times" (1967): Friedkin's first studio feature as a director was this engaging, loosely structured and music-infused showcase for Sonny and Cher.

"The Birthday Party" (1968): The Harold Pinter play gave Friedkin an early challenge in bringing it to the screen, with another major force in star Robert Shaw.

"The Night They Raided Minsky's" (1968): The death of co-star Bert Lahr during production put Friedkin to the test on this comedy about a police invasion of a New York burlesque showcase.

"The Boys in the Band" (1970): One of the first major movies about homosexuality saw Friedkin retaining the original stage cast of Mart Crowley's play.

"The French Connection" (1971):

Friedkin entered the echelon of major American directors with this pulse-pounding Oscar-winning drama, starring Gene Hackman and Roy Scheider as police partners out to dismantle a foreign drug operation in New York. The chase sequence with a hard-driving Hackman pursuing an overhead train remains a milestone of its kind. "The Exorcist" (1973): Included in a

Q: Who was the actress who played Rosalind Shays, the character who fell down the elevator shaft, on "L.A. Law"? – Wendy Powers, via e-mail

A: As the acclaimed drama series now gets a renewed showcase via remas-tered versions of the episodes, which are streaming on Hulu, that landmark scene is getting revived fame of its own. The actress in question was Diana Muldaur, who became a major villain on the show as Shays, a particularly strong-willed attorney brought into the law firm and making enemies everywhere she turned ... one exception being senior partner Leland McKenzie (Richard Dysart), with whom she developed a personal relationship. He was standing with her when she took her ultimately fatal step into what she thought was an elevator, but instead was an empty shaft that sent her plunging to her doom. The surprise moment got a huge reaction when it first aired on NBC, putting the coda on a role that earned Muldaur two Primetime Emmy nominations. The prolific performer also is widely known for her work in the "Star Trek" franchise, having played two different characters on the original 1960s series and Dr. Katherine Pulaski on "Star Trek: The Next Generation."

What our customers say about us...

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend! - Renay T.

From the moment you reach out to Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating you will recognize their professionalism and commitment to service are superior in the industry. The polite voice answering your call will reassure and work proficiently to accommodate answering your questions while placing your needs as their priority. From sales to installation, the representatives of Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating demonstrate their excellence in every aspect of their profession. I have called upon them on two separate occasions in two different homes (never the same unit) over the past 15 years and will continue to use them if I need HVAC repair or replacement. - DC Junior
