It's a rough go for 'Coastal Elites' in HBO special

In the age of the pandemic, "Coastal Elites" have a lot to grapple with in a special upcoming on HBO.

Premiering Saturday, Sept. 12, the comic satire from director Jay Roach ("Bombshell," "Game Change") and screenwriter Paul Rudnick ("Addams Family Values," "Sister Act") tells the stories of individuals from New York to Los Angeles coping with politics and the pandemic in the summer of 2020.

Among them are Miriam (Bette Midler, "Beaches"), a cultured New York City schoolteacher who finds herself in police custody; Clarissa (Sarah Paulson, "The People v. O.J. Simpson: American Crime Story"), a YouTube personality who produces a series called "Mindful Meditations"; Mark (Dan Levy, "Schitt's Creek"), a gay West Hollywood actor videoconferencing with his therapist during a moment of personal and professional stress; and Callie (Issa Rae, "Insecure"), a West African woman whose activism takes her all around the globe.

Rudnick conceived this as a stage production to be performed at The Public Theatre in New York, then rewrote it as a TV program when the lockdown hit. Each actor's monologue was filmed at their home and then edited together with other soliloquies. The turn-around time was fast as shooting ended in mid-July with editing and postproduction taking the last two months.

"I started writing this over a year ago, pre-pandemic, pre-protests, everything," Rudnick explains. "But the spark for it was that I had realized that for the past four years now, everyone I knew on every side of the political divide was spending 24 hours a day angry and heartbroken and totally addicted to discussing this country and its future and every aspect of politics and their personal lives. And I'd never seen that level of emotion and engagement ...

"And it became so urgent that it was something that I became desperate to write about. So when these characters kind of came to me, it was the best way to write and it's very rare that there were these people who just wanted to be heard. So I let them."

Paulson initially turned down her part down because it conflicted with shooting FX's upcoming "American Crime Story: Impeachment," in which she is slated to play Linda Tripp. When the pandemic shuttered production there, she was free to do this project, which she shot in a tent in her backyard with the help of a camera crew and

It tells the story of a woman who has a moment of vulnerability at the worst possible

"She's sort of explaining something that's happened to her recently (that) had an enormous impact on her," the actress explains. "And because she's sort of live on the air, she's having a kind of - not a Paddy Chavefsky sort of 'Network' breakdown, but almost something to that extent where she is finding herself exposed and having a big sort of emotional internal upheaval that many people watching can unfortunately or fortunately be part of.'

In Focus

"Little People, Big World" (TLC — fall premiere, Sept. 29)
It's the end of an era as Amy makes her final preparations to move off the farm for good. Chal-lenges still are ahead as she faces the woes of trying to relocate in the middle of a pandemic. Elsewhere, Zach and Tory are busy with baby Lilah and Jackson, making sure they are getting the proper care that they need while dealing with other modern-era parenting challenges — such as a quarantine birthday party.

"Swamp Thing" (The CW — broadcast pre-miere, Oct. 6)

What's Available NOW On

"Woke"

Lamorne Morris ("New Girl," "Valley of the Boom") stars in this comedy series about an African American cartoonist who is on the verge of commercial success when an unexpected incident changes everything. He must now balance the new voices and ideas that challenge him without tearing down everything he's built. Morris T. Murph and Blake
Anderson also star. (ORIGINAL)

"Brassic"

From the United Kingdom comes this comedy-drama series about the relationship of inseparable friends and how one is presented with the toughest decision of his life when his girlfriend wants to move in search of a better life. Joseph Gilgun ("Preacher"), Damien Molony ("Crashing") and Michelle Keegan ("Coronation Street") head the cast.

"Jamie: Keep Cooking and Carry On"

From the across the pond comes this cooking series in which British chef Jamie Oliver shows viewers in quarantine recipes, tips, tricks and hacks specially tailored to get them through these unique times.

"Ladhood"

British comedian Liam Williams' adolescence served as the basis of this coming-of-age comedy series in which he explores the roots of modernday masculinity by delving into the memories of his own misspent youth. Williams (who is also a writer here), Oscar Kennedy, Shaun Thomas, Samuel Bottomley and Aqib Khan head the cast.

In Focus

This series crosses over from the DC Universe streaming service to broadcast television, dropping with a 90-minute premiere. While looking into an epidemic in her Louisiana hometown, CDC investigator Abby Arcane (Crystal Reed) discovers that the local swamps hold numerous secrets after her partner seemingly dies and transforms into Swamp Thing. Virginia Madsen, Will Patton and Jennifer Beals also star.

"Cobra" (PBS — series premiere, Oct. 4)

In times of national emergency, a team comprised of Britain's leading experts, crisis contingency planners and most senior politicians assemble under the name COBRA to form the committee entrusted to protect the people of Great Britain. Set in the heart of government during a major crisis, this six-part drama follows the prime minister (Robert Carlyle) and his chief of staff (Victoria Hamilton) as they are forced to contend with impossible political decisions and their ferociously pressured personal lives.

"BAD EDUCATION"

Hugh Jackman is a current Emmy nominee for his performance in this recent, seriocomic HBO feature, which is in the running itself for outstanding television movie. Originally shown at last fall's Toronto International Film Festival, the tale casts Jackman and Oscar and Emmy winner Allison Janney ("Mom") as closely linked school administrators on Long Island, N.Y. Their careers are threatened when a student journalist's (Geraldine Viswanathan) probing uncovers financial irregularities in their plans to build a schoolconnecting "skywalk," prompting them to try to cover their tracks. Also featuring Ray Romano, Alex Wolff and Tony Award winner Annaleigh Ashford, the film is based on actual experiences of writerproducer Mike Makowsky when he was a pupil, though a Robert Kolker article in the magazine New York also was a source. DVD extras: three "making-of" documentaries.  $\star\star\star$  (Not rated: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray)

"FIRST COW"

Featured at a number of film festivals, director Kelly Reichardt's widely praised drama casts John Magaro ("The Big Short") as an early-19th-century cook who feels out of place accompanying a group of fur trappers through Oregon territory. Eventually, he finds a soulmate in a Chinese immigrant (Orion Lee), and they agree to become business partners ... but a rich man's milking cow is key to their planned venture being a success. Toby Jones ("The Hunger Games"), Alia Shawkat ("Arrested Development"), Dylan Smith, Ewen Bremner, Jared Kasowski and the late Rene Auberjonois also appear. *** (PG-13: AS, P) (Also on Bluray and On Demand)

"ALFRED HITCHCOCK CLASSICS COLLECTION"

Though any fan of suspense-master filmmaker Hitchcock likely has his or her own preferred titles to fit a set by this name, the selections here are comprised of four of his most choice features, making their debuts in the 4K Ultra HD format. "Rear Window" (1954) casts James Stewart as an incapacitated photogrpher whothinks he's witnessed murder; Stewart returns in "Vertigo" (1958) as an ex-police detective who becomes obsessed with two women (both played by Kim Novak); "Psycho" (1960) features Anthony Perkins' iconic portrayal of Norman Bates, the innkeeper who gets quite a customer in a fleeing embezzler (Janet Leigh); and the title creatures target Tippi Hedren, Rod Tayior, Suzanne Pleshette and others in "The Birds" (1963). ★★★★ (PG, PG-13 and R: AS, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

"BEAUTY AND THE BEAST 2-MOVIE COLLECTION"

It was only a matter of time until Disney paired its animated and live-action editions of the classic tale in one DVD set, and that time has come. In the much-beloved 1991 feature-length cartoon, Robby Benson voices the Beast, actually a transformed prince who loves the virtuous Belle (voice of Paige O'Hara); Angela Lansbury, Jerry Orbach and David Ogden Stiers also are heard. Then, Emma Watson is Belle as a "Beast"-ly Dan Stevens pursues her in the 2017 retelling with actors fully present – also including Josh Gad, Kevin Kline, Ewan McGregor, Emma Thompson, Ian McKellen, Audra McDonad and Stanley Tucci. Disney is giving "Cinderella" the same twoversions-together DVD-set treatment. *** (Gand PG: V)

"THE GREY FOX"

Movie stunt veteran Richard Farnsworth might not have been the likeliest candidate for stardom, but it came his way with this fine biography ... as did several international awards. He plays a 19th-century stagecoach robber who spends more than three decades in prison, then can't shake the desire for the next big score upon his release. Trying to adjust to then-modern times, he's prompted to emulate the classic movie "The Great Train Robbery" by staging a heist from a locomotive himself. Jackie Burroughs plays the photographer he falls in love with while he's hiding after committing the crime. Phillip Borsos ("One Magic Christmas") directed the film.

Jin Young Ko a rising star on LPGA Tour

For Babe Ruth it was 714 (career home runs). For Wayne

Some athletes have numbers next to their names that are Gretzky, it's 92 (goals in a season). And for LPGA Tour wunderkind Jin Young Ko, that figure will be 114.

That's the number of consecutive bogey-free holes the 25-yearold South Korean played across three midsummer tournaments last year as she ascended to become the top-ranked golfer on tour. That eclipses Tiger Woods' record of 110-straight holes without a bogey that he set in 2000 when he was at the top of his game.

Like Woods that year, Ko had her own laundry list of laurels in 2019, including a Tour-leading four victories, LPGA Rolex Player of the Year, a money-list topping $2,773,894 in earnings and the Vare Trophy for lowest scoring average. She also held the top position for playing 64 rounds under par, with 47 rounds in the 60s. All impressive accomplishments.

Among her four '19 victories were two majors, the Evian Championship and the ANA Inspiration. In the latter, she battled the heat at Mission Hills Country Club near Los Angeles to shoot a final-round a 2-under 70 to register a three-stroke victory over Mi Hyang Lee for her first major title.

With the Tour on hiatus due to quarantine restrictions, she had yet to make a start this season as of early August. But she'll be the reigning champion at this year's ANA Inspiration, which takes place without spectators at Mission Hills and airs Thursday through Sunday, Sept. 10-13, on Golf Channel.

Join 'Selena + Chef' for food knowledge and comedy on HBO Max

Like many of us, Selena Gomez needed something to do when quarantine hit. Her attempt to become a better cook is the subject of a series currently streaming on HBO Max.

In "Selena + Chef," the actress, singer and songwriter brings viewers into her kitchen for what she calls an "unapologetically authentic cook-along." In each episode, she's joined remotely by a different master chef as she tackles a variety of cuisines, picks up culinary tips, tricks and techniques and deals with kitchen misadventures like missing ingredients or a smoking oven.

So it's the good, the bad and the ugly as Gomez tries her hand at dishes such as a French omelet, spicy miso ramen, Korean breakfast tacos, seafood tostados and a cheese souffle under the virtual supervision of Antonia Lofaso, Ludo Lefebvre, Angelo Sosa, Roy Choi, Nyesha Arrington and others. Family and friends serve as her tasters as they determine whether the meal is a success or a failure.

Cooking before the watchful eyes of viewers is nothing new to Gomez, who often cooks with friends on social media. But here doing it with the virtual assistance of experts, she found the experience much more intimidating.

"But it was super fun," she says.

"Everybody was so great and you know ... I enjoy connecting with people this way. You know, I think that's one of my favorite parts of my job. You step on a film set and you're meeting incredible people, and then you're, you know, in music working with incredible people. And now, being able to get some of the greatest chefs onboard with this ... it just came together. And I think that it was fun, and I think it was ... something people should enjoy."

As for what she did well, Gomez cites the miso soup, however the octopus was an experience she'd be fine with never having to repeat even though it came out delicious. And the French omelet continues to give her trouble despite its apparent simplicity, although she did pick up a useful technique.

"There was this trick where, because it has to be kind of circle-ish, you can use a wet towel and you can kind of press it over the edges so that it looks perfect," she explains. "And so I've been doing that with a few things, not even just an omelet, just like presentation. I've never cared more about presentation than I do now."
