

We all know Olaf as the beloved snowman from the "Frozen" movies. How he developed into the uber-optimistic character he came to be is explored in an animated short upcoming on Disnev+.

'Once Upon a Snowman," which begins streaming Friday, Oct. 23, fills in the blanks between when Elsa created him as she was "letting it go" and building her ice palace and when Anna and Kristoff meet him in the forest in the original 2013 Oscar-winner "Frozen." It follows his footsteps as he comes to life and searches for his identity in the snowy mountains outside the kingdom of Arendelle.

Josh Gad returns to voice the innocent though insightful Olaf and much of the production team from "Frozen" and its 2019 sequel "Frozen II" is also present here.

The film was a passion project for directors Trent Correy and Dan Abraham and came about from an idea Correy had while working as an animator on the first "Frozen" movie. "The story started off as a very basic 'What happens to Olaf during these moments?"

" Correy explains. "And when Elsa makes him, Olaf doesn't have his carrot nose so the premise was always Olaf finding his nose. And it's not that the short took a long time to write, it's just that it took a long time for the right timing for it to be made ...

"But ('Frozen' and 'Frozen II' writer/director/producer) Jennifer Lee and Dan Abraham, they've both really pushed like, 'What is the deeper meaning behind this short?' so that it became kind of less of a gag short of Olaf just trying to find his nose and we put that Disney heart behind it.'

And a lot of that soulfulness comes from Gad. A lifelong Disney fan, the actor and producer has been an enthusiastic participant in the "Frozen" universe from the outset and both directors credit him with bringing a dimension to the character that isn't on the page.

The guy is Olaf," Abraham says, "like we give him a script and he does the script but ... the improv that he does and the embellishments and the little giggles or sighs or whatever it is, like nobody else could do that. Like nobody else can be Olaf but him. It's amazing what he brings to bring that character to life."

"One of our highlights," Correy adds, "was definitely being in the recording booth with Josh because you have the story and the storyboards up until then ... but as soon as you get that Josh Gad voice in there, everything springs to life and the animators just have a blast animating to all of his little idiosyncrasies and giggles and screams."

As for what viewers will learn about the character, Correy says, "This is the Olaf origin story. He is finding out a lot about himself, how he moves, how he talks, how he is and his identity. So we really just get to enjoy this kind of side story of Olaf and his first walks in life and how he interacts within the 'Frozen' timeline, you know, eventually leading up to when he meets Anna and Kristoff."

"My Big Italian Adventure" (HGTV — series premiere, Oct. 30) Lorraine Bracco ("The Sopranos," "Goodfel-las") puts her life in Hollywood on hold and heads to the island of Sicily for this new renovation series. After purchasing a 200-year-old home in the hilltop town of Sambuca di Sicilia for one euro she enlists the help of an architect coneuro, she enlists the help of an architect, contractor and other local experts to totally rehab the structure. Sambuca's mayor started the one-euro program to encourage people to purchase the town's vacant homes quickly and inexpensively with the understanding that the homes must be completed within three years of purchase.

"The Christmas Chronicles 2" (Netflix movie premiere, Nov. 25)

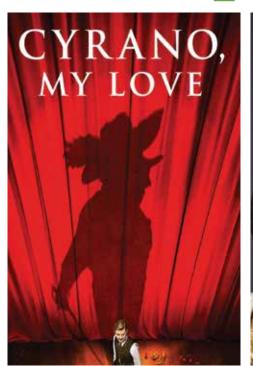

What's Available NOW

The Painted Bird

"Movie: The Painted Bird" Writer/director Václav Marhoul's adaptation of Jerzy Kosi?ski's 1965 novel follows the story of Joska (Petr Kotlár), a young Eastern European Jewish boy who encounters many different characters and witnesses or experiences many different cruelties from the ravages war and anti-Semitism during World War II. Nina Sunevic, Alla Sokolova and Stanislav Bilyi also star in this 2019 war drama.

"Movie: Terminator: Dark Fate" Director Tim Miller's 2019 sci-fi action film was a direct sequel to 1984's "The Terminator" and "Terminator 2: Judgment Day," but disregarded events from subsequent sequels or TV series spinoffs. Set 25 years after the events of "T2: Judgment Day," this new release sees the future machines sending an advanced Terminator (Gabriel Luna) back to 2020 to kill Dani Ramos (Natalia Reyes) due to her destiny.

"Movie: Cyrano, My Love" In 1897 Paris, desperate playwright Edmond Rostand (Thomas Solivéres,

"The Student and Mister Henri") offers up a new and unwritten production titled "Cyrano de Bergerac" to an investor in this 2019 comedy/drama from director Alexis Michalik ("Grounded," "Friday Night"). Olivier Gourmet, Mathilde Seigner and Tom Leeb also star in this France/Belgium co-production.

"Movie: Bad Hair"

Set in 1989, this horror satire tells the story of an ambitious young woman (Elle Lorraine, "Insecure") who gets a weave in order to advance in the image-oriented world of music television. But success comes at a cost when she realizes the hair has a mind of its own. Vanessa Williams and Lena Waithe are also in the solid cast. (ORIGINAL) Premiere

"BACK TO THE FUTURE: THE ULTIMATE TRILOGY"

If you're a fan of the time-traveling adventures of Marty McFly (played by Michael J. Fox), chances are good that you own the Steven Spielbergproduced Robert Zemeckis-directed fantasy comedies in some form already. However, what now is meant to be the definitive edition – marking the original movie's 35th anniversary – gives the pictures their debuts in the 4K Ultra HD format. Along with Doc Brown (Christopher Lloyd), Marty bends the rules of space and time in a highly souped-up DeLorean – and, in the mid-1950s, has a decidedly Freudian experience when he meets his then-future parents (Lea Thompson, Crispin Glover). "Back to the Future, Part II" takes him to then-distant 2015, while "Back to the Future, Part III" sends him back even farther, to the Old West. Particularly fun among the expectedly bountiful extras is footage of such then-stars-to-be Ben Stiller, Kyra Sedgwick and Jon Cryer auditioning for the main roles. * (PG: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray)

"QUIZ"

"Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" has been an international hit, but a scandal wracked the British version of the game show, as this drama miniseries - shown in America by AMC - recounts. A woman (Sian Clifford, "Fleabag") who's desperate to be a contestant helps her military-major husband (Matthew Macfadyen, "Succession") land in the hot seat instead, and though he fares quite well on the

Florida's LARGEST DMV Licensed Driving School

In Focus

Writer and director Chris Columbus ("Home Alone," "Pixels") offers up this new movie, which follows the original film from 2018. This time around, Kate Pierce (Darby Camp) is a teenager who is struggling with her holiday surroundings in Cancun and with her mother's new boyfriend. When she decides to run away, she discovers that a troublemaker is threatening to cancel Christmas forever and jumps into action to help save it. Stars also include Kurt Russell, Goldie program, he ends up being accused of having accrued big winnings by cheating ... using an alleged cough-based system of receiving signals from his wife and an accomplice. Michael Sheen plays England "Millionaire" host Chris Tarrant, and Helen McCrory ("Peaky Blinders") also is in the cast of noted filmmaker Stephen Frears ("The Queen"). (Not rated: AS, P)  (Also on Bluray)

"TREMORS: SHRIEKER ISLAND"

Even if it isn't around all the time, this horrorwith-humor franchise inevitably returns at some point, this made-for-video chapter being the latest example ... coinciding (but not so coincidentally) with the 30th anniversary of the original "Tremors" movie. Series staple Michael Gross ("Family Ties") reprises the role of Burt Gummer, proud vanquisher of the sinister Graboids, who surface yet again when some wealthy and unwise folks make the mistake of messing genetically with the creatures' eggs. The result is sort of a pseudo-"Jurassic Park." as the newborn monsters invade an island research facility and threaten the staff there. Jon Heder ("Napoleon Dynamite") also stars. DVD extras: three "making-of" documentaries.  (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"MASTERPIECE: FLESH AND BLOOD"

Currently being televised by PBS, this British drama miniseries finds a recently widowed Hawn, Kimberly Williams Paisley and Judah Lewis.

"Saved by the Bell" (Peacock — series premiere, Nov. 25)

Elizabeth Berkley Lauren and Mario Lopez are among the returnees to this comedy series reboot that sees a whole influx of new students to Bayside High thanks to budget cuts in other school districts. John Michael Higgins stars alongside newcomers Belmont Cameli, Dexter Darden, Mitchell Hoog, Alycia Pascual-Pena and Josie Totah. (ORIGINAL) woman's new romance regarded skeptically – and suspiciously – by her grown children, who also have their own complicated love stories. Francesca Annis ("Cranford") plays the mom who's in the throes of love with her new suitor (Stephen Rea), to the very evident worry of her offspring (Claudie Blakley, Russell Tovey, Lydia Leonard). Those concerns may be justified when something happens that draws a detective's (David Bamber) curiosity. Imelda Staunton also stars as a neighbor who has her own questions about the situation. Those who acquire this upon release can watch the conclusion before its U.S. broadcast.  (Not rated: AS, P)

"THE VANISHED"

The title refers to a youngster who disappears during a family vacation in this melodrama written and directed by actor Peter Facinelli ("Nurse Jackie"), who's also in the cast. However, the main roles go to Thomas Jane and currentseason "Dancing With the Stars" contestant Anne Heche, playing the parents of the missing girl. Their efforts to locate her reveal a devastating secret likely to have an impact far beyond the spouses' current dilemma. Jason Patric also appears as a sheriff who's less effective than the couple would like, prompting them to step up the search for their daughter on their own. * (R: AS, P, V) (Also on On Demand)

playerprofile Growing pains continue for Murray in second year with Cardinals

Kyler Murray has MVP-caliber talent and a laundry list of honors to his name but like any young quarterback there are hiccups.

Indeed, the Arizona Cardinals' second-year field general has shown flashes of brilliance in his year-plus in the NFL. After being selected first overall in the 2019 draft, the 23-year-old former Oklahoma Sooner proved his worth right out of the gate, passing for 308 yards and two touchdowns as he rallied the Cards from a 16-point deficit to a 27-27 tie with the Detroit Lions in his first NFL start.

Four more 300-plus-yard games would follow that year for Murray as he finished with 3,722 yards passing, a team record for a rookie, but he was also plagued by the interception -12 of them. Still, in leading the Cards to a 7-8-1 record, he won AP Offensive Rookie of the Year honors.

So far, 2020 has followed the same script - glimpses of greatness punctuated by mistakes. That was on display in Arizona's Week 3 game against the Lions, as Murray faked cornerback Jeff Okudah out of his shoes on an impressive one-yard touchdown run but was picked off three times - all deep in Cardinal territory, leading to 10 Detroit points - as the Cards suffered their first loss of the season by a score of 26-23. So far through three games, his interceptions (5) outnumber his touchdowns (4).

Such mistakes are to be expected from a second-year QB but the if the Cards are to make a run in a tough NFC West, they'll need Murray to keep them to a minimum.

Murray and the Cardinals can be seen in action Monday, Oct., 19, when they pay a visit to the Dallas Cowboys in a game airing on ESPN.

tasty t√ BY GEORGE DICKIE Food Network's 'Worst Cooks' get a second chance with 'Halloween Redemption'

The dual scares of Halloween and really bad cooking join forces in an upcoming holiday special on Food Network.

In "Worst Cooks in America: Halloween Redemption," premiering Sunday, Oct. 18, Anne Burrell and Carla Hall host as four past Boot Camp recruits return to create a holiday spread for the scariest night of the year. Split into two teams led by the master chefs, they're tasked with coming up with a buffet suitable for a Halloween gathering, with the winning squad, as determined by a panel of culinary experts, getting a kitchen upgrade worth $5,000.

The contestants here aren't necessarily the creme-de-la-creme of the Boot Camp crop. In fact, quite the contrary. These are people who learned the lessons the first time through but didn't do anything with them once they got back to their lives and thus those skills disappeared. So the "Worst Cooks" moniker still applies.

"The recruits that came back were people that had just been on the show before and had not been very successful," Burrell explains. "So we brought people back to give them a chance. So four recruits, two people that had been on the red team and two people that had been on the blue team and we did a whole Halloween party with them. So everyone was not starting off from exactly square one in Boot Camp but I don't know if they were all the way to square two yet." Still, Burrell saw some encouraging signs.

"What the very nice part about this was," she says, "when people came back into Boot Camp ... they were like a little bit rusty but then returned to their Boot Camp ways fairly quickly. It was absolutely required for them to do because we were only together for a couple of days."

But these are, after all, the "Worst Cooks," and newcomer Hall was shocked at their ineptitude, much to Burrell's amusement.

"Every time I get a new co-host in Boot Camp," Burrell says, "they have the same reaction and they're like, 'I can't believe this. I can't believe what's happening here. Is this real?' I mean, as much as the people at home say that, my co-hosts say the same thing. But Carla is really fun. She really cares about the teaching aspect of it so she fit into Boot Camp really, really well. ... The whole show is just really change.

"Movie: Hereditary"

When the matriarch of the Graham family passes away, her daughter and grandchildren begin to unravel cryptic and increasingly terrifying secrets about their ancestry, trying to outrun the sinister fate they have inherited. Toni Collette, Gabriel Byrne and Milly Shapiro star in the 2018 horror from director Ari Aster ("The Strange Thing About the Johnsons").

"Arthur and the Haunted Tree House"

Trick-or-treating on Halloween brings more fun and adventure to Arthur and his pals in this 2017 animated feature, which finds Francine meeting an elderly woman with a mysterious past, Binky winding up at Mr. Ratburn's amazing haunted house and Arthur, Buster and Ladonna fearing their treehouse may be haunted.
