Missing no more: Procedural drama takes sinister turn in 'Found'

According to NamUS's October 2022 report, in the United States, approximately 600,000 people are reported as missing annually — no doubt a much higher number than many of us might expect.

As true crime aficionados and law enforcement can likely attest, only a fraction of these missing people are ever found, and with each passing hour, their cases become more and more dire. Thankfully, there are a handful of people in the world who are equipped with the skills and knowledge to help, and one such person — on screen, at least — is Gabi Mosely, the leading character in NBC's newest procedural drama "Found," premiering Tuesday, Oct. 3.

Played by "Shameless" star Shanola Hampton, Gabi is a hard-working, determined public relations expert who specializes in finding Americans who have been reported as missing. As she leads a team of professionals in their shared noble work, Gabi does her best to parse her own past as a missing person. That said, Gabi's methods for dealing with her demons could arguably use a bit of work.

As viewers quickly learn, Gabi has turned the proverbial tables on her former captor and has taken him hostage for a change — not exactly legal, but certainly satisfying. Now, despite her outwardly calm and put-together exterior, Gabi must hide the fact that she has a man, known only as "Sir" (played by "Saved by the Bell's" Mark-Paul Gosselaar), tied up in her very own basement while she seeks justice for the remainder of the missing Americans on the register.

To make matters even more intriguing, Gabi has a plan for Sir.

Convinced that, as a former abductor himself, Sir knows the ins and outs of the criminal psyche and its various resulting behaviors, Gabi enlists his help as a consultant. With each new case she brings home, Sir is forced to help her find the victims of these heinous abductions and turn the kidnappers over to the authorities for investigation, (hopefully) a guilty verdict and sentencing.

While "Found" was originally scheduled for a Feb. 19 premiere this year, NBC announced the show's postponement in mid-January, believing it to be better suited to an autumn release.

"After watching the first few episodes of 'Found,' it quickly became clear that our love for this show has continued to grow and grow with each step of the process," Susan Rovner, chairman of entertainment content for NBCUniversal television and streaming, said in a January news release.

"Our goal is always to find the absolute best home for all our series, and it's particularly the case with one as important as this," Rovner continued. "By moving it to fall, we're able to better leverage our resources, including lead-in and marketing muscle, enabling us to launch 'Found' to the largest possible audience across all our platforms."

As a result of this shift, "Found" premieres immediately following a new Season 24 episode of the hit singing competition "The Voice" and joins other series on NBC's fall docket, including Season 2 of the sci-fi reboot "Quantum Leap," Season 5 of the Hawaii-set procedural "Magnum P.I." (both premiering Oct. 4), Season 3 of the Canadian medical drama "Transplant" (premiering on NBC Oct. 12) and new episodes of "The Wall" (beginning Nov. 3).

A new season of "Dateline" also premieres on the network, alongside new series "The Irrational" (which premiered Sept. 25) and rebroadcasts of the One Chicago and Law & Order franchise procedurals.

As for "Found," the series is expected to do well in the ratings while hopefully drawing some much-needed attention to the shocking number of people still registered as missing in the United States. Despite 2021 being marked by Statista Research Department as the year with the "lowest number of missing person files in the U.S. since 1990," the June 2023 report still noted more than 521,000 people missing by the end of 2021, many of them people of color.

It is also important to note that this number is once again on the rise, as last year alone, "546,568 missing person records were entered into National Crime Information Center," according to the FBI website.

The cast and crew of "Found" certainly have their work cut out for them with such an important topic. Thankfully, series stars Hampton and Gosselaar have some help bringing awareness to the subject. Kelli Williams ("The Practice"), Brett Dalton ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D."), Arlen Escarpeta ("The Oath"), Gabrielle Walsh ("9-1-1") and Karan Oberoi ("Counterpart") star as cohorts of Gabi's, helping her in her hunt for justice, while Azaria Carter ("P-Valley") stars as teenaged Gabi in flashbacks.

Bill Kelly ("True Detective"), Sterling Jones ("Barbie," 2023), Rena Maliszewski ("CODA," 2021), Mike Whaley ("Under the Dome") and Monique Grant ("Swagger") also star.

Don't miss the series premiere of "Found," NBC's newest and arguably most poignant procedural, when it airs Tuesday, Oct. 3, on the network. Those who wish to stream the series on Peacock can find it the following day on the platform.

One man's burger is another man's art. Bob, Linda and the Belcher kids are back for an all-new season of ups and downs, doing their best to keep their sea-side burger shop afloat – and while a fine selection of condiments may not be particularly important to you, they make all the difference to this beef toting, animated family. Season 14 of "Bob's Burgers" premieres Sunday, Oct. 1, on Fox. To catch up on clips, extras, and Season 13 antics, visit fox.com/bobs-burgers/

Just as the credits on Roman Polanski's 1968 classic, "Rosemary's Baby," roll, this special feature swoops in to uncover the tragedies that followed the filming of his masterpiece. The death of a young composer, the rise of the Manson Family, the death of Polanski's own wife – learn of all this and more in a new episode of "Cursed Films," airing Monday, Oct. 2, on AMC. Damaris Phillips ("Food Network Star" winner, Season 9) expands her search for the greatest of Great Pumpkin carvers as Season 4 of "Outrageous Pumpkins" continues, airing new episodes Sundays on Food Network.

During the season premiere — which aired Sunday, Sept. 24 — eight talented pumpkin carvers joined Phillips on the series' spooky carving stage, all eager to become the next "Outrageous Pumpkins" champion. The artists immediately began their first challenge: creating the most elaborate porch display in the neighborhood, showing off their unique artistic view in order to introduce themselves to judges Ralph Attanasia ("Cake Boss") and Terri Hardin ("Men in Black, 1997"). Only the most distinct, creative and downright spooky will continue, as eliminations take place following each round.

This week's episode — the second of four — follows the remaining carvers as they try their hand at defying gravity. A summary listed on Food Network describes: "Host Damaris Phillips is all about everyone's favorite Halloween decoration, the jack-o'-lantern, so she tasks the carvers with creating topsy-turvy, gravity-defying stacks of jacks. Then in the 'Big Carve,' the competitors must impress judges Ralph Attanasia and Terri Hardin with a spooky jack-o'-lantern skeletal structure to stay safe from elimination."

As the season continues, Phillips challenges the artists to carve three-dimensional pop culture pumpkins and sculptures that highlight iconic fashion eras — even watching on as the final few bring (according to Food Network) "common literary phrases with a deadly twist to life for the judges."

From 3D to DC, the final five carvers must call for superhuman strength as they attempt to depict a scene from DC's "Batman," with the titular crime-fighter facing off against one of his iconic enemies as he tries to save Gotham City.

By the grand finale, only half of the competitors will remain, as the final four carvers must impress Attanasia and Hardin in not one, but two rounds. First, Phillips tasks the group with "creating the winning monster entry in the Miss/Mr. Underworld Pageant, complete with pageant talent," says Food Network, continuing: "Then, it's time for giants on parade as the competitors transform 2,000-pound Atlantic Giant pumpkins into a spooktacular Halloween parade float."

Whoever can complete this last, massive feat and impress judges best earns the championship title and all its glory, including a $25,000 cash prize and the coveted "Outrageous Pumpkins" championship belt — a worthy feat for any Halloween heavyweight.

Season 4 of "Outrageous Pumpkins" continues through October, with new episodes airing Sundays on Food Network.

BEST ELVIS PRESLEY MOVIES

Elvis Presley in "Jailhouse Rock"

"Love Me Tender" (1956): Presley's first movie role turned an average Civil War story into an event - and also got the picture's title altered, thanks to one of the tunes he crooned.

"Loving You" (1957): Mirroring Presley's own rise to stardom, this rags-to-riches drama boasts one of his most sensitive performances, before he entered the phase of having his songs hung on threadbare plots.

"Jailhouse Rock" (1957): The famous scene with Presley singing, and gyrating to, the title tune says it all about this classic. This is among the features Turner Classic Movies will show in a daytime marathon of Presley pictures Thursday, Oct. 5.

"Flaming Star" (1960): Guided by director Don Siegel, who later turned Clint Eastwood into Dirty Harry, Presley puts real effort into playing a man of two cultures that clash, putting him in a bind.

"Wild in the Country" (1961): Presley and playwright Clifford Odets weren't a typical combination, but credit was due the still-early movie star for being ambitious enough to tackle sophisticated material that would challenge even the most experienced actor.

"Blue Hawaii" (1961): You couldn't hope for the islands to look lovelier than in this combination of Elvis showcase and travelogue, also intriguing for Presley raising his acting game opposite a veteran talent by the name of Angela Lansbury.

"Kid Galahad" (1962): Presley is sincere as a boxer who succeeds in the ring, though he desires a quieter life.

"Fun in Acapulco" (1963): Presley in his prime; Ursula Andress, fresh off being the first "Bond girl"; Mexican locations. What's not to like?

"Viva Las Vegas" (1964): Presley's ultimate star vehicle gave him an ideal partner in Ann-Margret and pretty much set the blueprint (he races cars!) for numerous other Elvis movies.

"Roustabout" (1964): This arguably was the best of Presley's efforts once he got into more of a cookie-cutter mode (he's a cycle-riding carnival worker!) with his movies.

Q: I was saddened to learn that Bob Barker died. I know he hosted “Truth or Consequences” before “The Price Is Right,” but did he host any other shows before that? – Ron Gordon, via e-mail

A: Not on television, but he had his own radio program originating from Southern California,

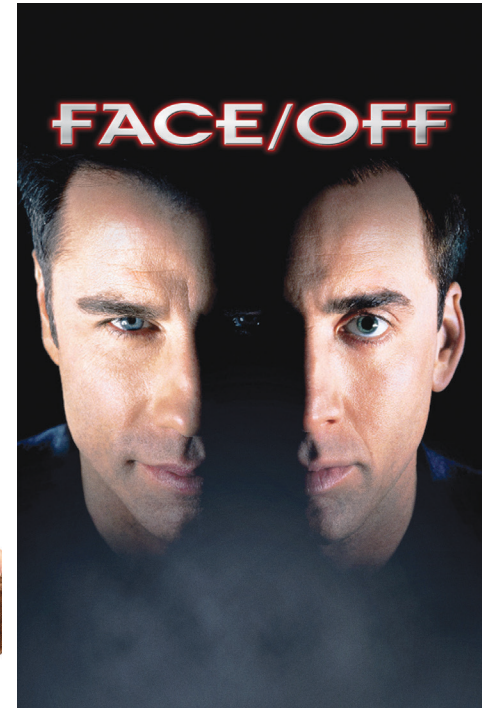

“Movie: 2001: A Space Odyssey” (Available Now)

After uncovering a mysterious artifact buried beneath the Lunar surface, a spacecraft is sent to Jupiter to find its origins: a spacecraft manned by two men and the supercomputer HAL 9000.

“Movie: 10 Things I Hate About You” (Available Now)

A high-school boy, Cameron (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), cannot date Bianca (Larisa Oleynik) until her anti-social older sister, Kat (Julia Stiles), has a boyfriend. So, Cameron pays a mysterious boy, Patrick (Heath Ledger), to charm Kat in this 1999 high school rom-com.

“Movie: Face/Off” (Available Now)

To foil a terrorist plot, FBI agent Sean Archer (John Travolta) assumes the identity of Castor Troy (Nicolas Cage), the criminal who murdered his son, through facial transplant surgery, but the crook wakes up prematurely and vows revenge.

Television work was right for Bob Barker after he had worked at stations in Missouri and Florida. It was while he was working at Los Angeles station KNX – still in operation as an all-news outlet – and interacting with audience members that he came to the attention of television host and producer Ralph Edwards, who was seeking someone to front the weekday-TV version of “Truth or Consequences.” The offer went out to Barker, and the rest is genuine television history.

Q: Will Derek Hough be back on “Dancing With the Stars” for its new season? – Gail Hackett, Reading, Pa.

A: He will, and with a new responsibility, since he’ll assume the position of head judge that previously was held by the late Len Goodman. Hough (who’s a newlywed) is sure to have some interesting interaction with the hosts, too, since his sister Julianne will join returnee Alfonso Ribeiro to preside over the contest. (Tyra Banks has left the show.) ABC will return to carrying the program for its new season, with Disney+ continuing to present it as well.

Q: I was glad to hear that “And Just Like That ...” has been renewed for a third season. Will Kim Cattrall be coming back as Samantha again? – Leslie Gray, via e-mail

A: Nothing was definitive about that at the time of this writing, but some sources indicated that it was unlikely, considering the circumstances by which she appeared in Season 2 of the Max sequel to “Sex and the City.” Though her Samantha and Sarah Jessica Parker’s Carrie did share a scene, it involved a phone call between them, so Cattrall – who has made no secret of her discontent over her working situation on the original series – didn’t have to be on the set with the other principal actresses.

The show was able to do that once, but using the same set-up more than that might not be a well the series’ makers would want to dip into again. Anything is possible, but we’d presume that a reprise of that premise is doubtful, and so is another return by Cattrall as a result.
